News from Acting Head

Our Christmas rehearsals are underway and the children are all getting very excited to perform for you. We do have limited seating in the hall, so we are limiting tickets to 2 per family. If you require extra tickets, we will add you to a waiting list and let you know if any become available. You can find tickets on ParentPay. The PTFA are organising their annual Christmas raffle. They already have lots of great prizes on offer. If you have any donations you would like to make for the raffle they would be greatly appreciated.

We will be holding another Coffee & Craft morning on Friday 13th December from 9-10am. You are welcome to join us for a cuppa and to sit with your child to do some crafts. We have to limit this to 40 parents, so we have opened a limited booking on ParentPay (there is no cost but tickets will have to be booked due to space). We will do our best to hold one of these events every term this year, so there will be further opportunities to join us.

Cynfran Preschool have given us a bag of pull up nappies that are various sizes. We are unsure exactly what size they are, but you are welcome to come and have a look if you think you can use them with your little ones.

We have been talking to the children once again about being safe online. If they search for something inappropriate, I get a message and I am able to check the search history on the devices they are using. I am sometimes unable to pinpoint exact devices, but that technology is on its way to us very soon. Often this happens when children have misspelled a word or clicked on the wrong thing. However, there are occasions when searches are made deliberately. If this happens, we will let parents know immediately. Please check the search history on your children's devices regularly and make sure they are using the internet where you are close by and can see what they are up to. If you require any support with knowing what to look for and how to check search history, please let us know.

Thank you for your support.

Have a lovely weekend.

Kind regards,

Beth Hughes

Class News

Dosbarth Dulas Meithrin: have been busy doing Christmas crafts and enjoyed the story 'Dear Santa'.

Dosbarth Dulas: have been busy practising our Christmas concert and made a start on our Christmas crafts.

Dosbarth Betws: have been trying super hard to learn their songs for the concert. They are all doing brilliantly.

Dosbarth Dolwen: have started practising for the Christmas play this week, as well as choosing their parts. They have also been writing final drafts of a recount and estimating and measuring the perimeter of our class, playground and even the cycle track! All parts with costume requests have gone out this week.

Dosbarth Marian: have been busy learning about Symmetry and expanded subtraction in Maths this week. They have also been planning their diary entry about a day in the life of a Celt. They also really enjoyed learning the correct bowling technique in their cricket session.

Dosbarth Elian: this week concert rehearsals have been in full swing. Lots of singing and acting. Pupils wrote some excellent trench descriptions, using lots of adjectives and detail.

Is your child a budding artist? 🧐 Then it's time for them to get their colouring pencils at the ready as today we launch our Children's Christmas Colouring Competition! 🎨 This competition is part of our festive safety campaign, appealing for everyone to help keep our communities safe by following some basic fire safety tips and looking after each other this Christmas. There are two age categories for the competition, 7 and under and 7 to 11.

📅 Closing date: 3rd December, 2024

You can learn more and download a printable colouring sheet on our website <https://www.northwalesfire.gov.wales/keeping-you-safe/in-your-community/christmas-safety/christmas-safety-colouring-competition/>
